FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Washington, December 11.—The report of the Commander-in-Chief is a lengthy document, mainly a grand summary of military operations since his last annual report, referring to the Department of the Potomac.—
General Buruside's proposed change of base is not approved of by him. Buruside refers to the fact that he consented to cross his army circle of the average Raymahannock and by the fords of the upper Rappahannock and then move down to and seize the port of Fred-erickaburg, while a small force was to be sent north of the river to enable him to reopen the railroad. This plan was assented to, but not approved of. Burnside instead of crossing the Rappahannock as he was expected to do Rappahannock as he was expected to do marched his whole army down to the north time moved down to the south bank of the river—at this time fordable—a few miles above the town. General Sumner asked permission to cross and occupy the heights but it was refused and attempt was made to effect a passage until the 11th, by which time Lee's army and been concentrated, and the alleged defeat which we suffered soon after resulted from neglect to forward the pontoon train from Washington. Whereas the pontoons at that time were at Berlin in the army of the Potomac, the delay therefore was unavoidadle, and on in vestigation of matters, Burnside pro-
